

Floralies Internationales - France

May 17-26, 2024

"Flower games"

Selected Theme

An integral part of all cultures, games are one of the oldest forms of social interaction among humans. They capture the perspectives and ideas of cultures around the world while enriching future generations. A true source of energy and positivity, games encourage us to challenge and improve ourselves.

In the summer of 2024, Paris will be hosting the Olympic Games for the first time in a hundred years. With a nod toward this exciting and extraordinary undertaking, the Floralies Internationales - Nantes Committee is proud to announce that the 13th edition of our renowned flower show will evoke the theme « Flower games ».

Keeping this theme in mind, professional partners, knowledgeable amateurs, and institutional partners from around the world will be invited to use their expertise and best efforts in creating displays that use an abundance of varieties and creative sources. Each exhibit should illustrate a popular game native to each participant's country.

Intellectual games, physical games, childhood games, garden games, water games

Exceptional Site

In order to honor the symbolism of our new theme's origin, the Floralties Internationales - Nantes Committee realized the 2024 show would require a natural setting of expansive spaces to provide dimension to the ornamental and floral exhibits. Looking boldly to the future, the Committee decided to choose The « Domaine de la Chabotterie » situated just south of Nantes in the Vendee department.

The 13th edition of the Floralties Internationales - France, an incredible adventure for all, will undoubtedly flourish in perfect harmony with nature in its new idyllic setting, one replete with unusual and undeniable charm.

« The Chabotterie Estate»,

Near Nantes

Located between Nantes and La Roche-sur-Yon, the estate's bucolic setting exudes a peaceful soothing energy that allows one to be as close to nature as possible, thus offering an unforgettable and authentic experience. The beauty of the location is enhanced by the residence, an 18th century architectural treasure designated as an historical monument.

This unique environment contains a park of over 118 acres dotted with inviting paths, hedge-lined meadows, thick woods, delightful orchards, and enticing labyrinths. A bridle path with a remarkable view can also be found on the property. Immersion in this inspirational, lush landscape of multiple elevations, indeed a splendid green theater, will enable the participants to express their creativity and showcase their talents in spectacular and diverse ornamental and floral displays.

This large, ambitious, and far-reaching project is fully supported by the Vendee Developmental Council and its President, Alain Leboeuf.
